Pupil Voice : Enabling Children and Young People across the Autism Spectrum to be heard

The Seminar will be led by:

Phil Christie
(Director of Children's Services)

Ruth Fidler
(Assistant Head Teacher, Sutherland House School)

Louise Pennington
(Speech and Language Therapist, Team Leader)

Katherine Davies
(Assistant Head Teacher, Sutherland House School)

Alongside new initiatives to promote self-advocacy and emotional well-being, is an increased emphasis on children and young people participating in decision making and planning for their futures. Across educational settings, this area of work is referred to as 'Pupil Voice'.

Resources will be available for demonstration and discussion.

The day will cover:

- a context and overview of current initiatives
- case studies and practical examples
- whole school approaches which promote and prioritise pupil voice
- examples of using a range of review systems which include the views of children and young people
- an opportunity for participants to raise issues reflecting their own circumstances

The day is aimed at professionals working with children and young people on the autism spectrum, across the full age and ability range. It will also be appropriate for parents.

Places are limited to 40

Delegate Fees:

Professionals : £120.00

Parents: £60.00

Price includes lunch and refreshments throughout the day and a comprehensive delegate pack
