

St Margaret's School, Tadworth presents

Profound Education

a one-day conference for SEN professionals

Saturday 24th October 9.30am to 3.30pm

A special one-day conference for professionals exploring best practice in education, care and therapy for children and young people with profound and multiple learning difficulties (PMLD).

This event will be of interest to Teachers, Learning Support Assistants, Therapists, Therapy Assistants and Portage workers in the PMLD and wider SEN fields.

Chaired by Flo Longhorn, renowned international speaker and author of many books on multi-sensory approaches to learning.

The conference will also feature:

- Keynote speech from Dr Steve Cochran from the Department for Children, Schools and Families about National Strategies on Progression Guidance
- Presentations on rebound therapy and joint working from our clinical specialists
- Workshops on Rett syndrome, sensory integration, hashing and music therapy.

St Margaret's School in Tadworth is one of the only schools in the UK catering exclusively for pupils with PMLD and complex health needs. The school publishes the Profound Education Curriculum, which has been specially devised for this population. The curriculum will be available to purchase at the conference.

The cost per delegate is £95 including lunch. Places are limited so please book early.
