NASS SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PARTNER TRAINING

Closing date for applications: 5pm, Monday 16th March 2026

National Association of Special Schools (NASS) is delighted to be taking over the management of the highly regarded School Improvement Partner (SIP) training programme, previously run by Mulberry Bush. Endorsed with a Crossfields Institute Quality Mark, the programme equips experienced leaders in special schools and alternative provision with the skills and knowledge to become effective SIPs.

This training benefits both your own school or organisation and the wider education community, enabling you to provide support and share best practice with other schools.

Led by three experienced school leaders and SIPs - Deirdre Fitzpatrick, Andy Lole and Dominic Salles - you will take part in six days of training at Charney Manor, Oxfordshire, and apply your learning in two practice SIP days. On completion, you will be invited to join the NASS SIP network for ongoing support and professional development.

Training

The training will prepare you to:

- Have a critical awareness of own school's strengths
- Understand the range of functions of the SIP role
- Understand how to structure a SIP visit
- Understand how to report on a visit
- See the value of collecting evidence from different sources
- Work with staff holding different roles and responsibilities, and with governors/trustees
- Explore common SIP challenges and barriers
- Understand and manage emotional aspects of the role
- Develop a style of work that empowers leaders to take ownership and delegate responsibilities
- Develop a coaching style of work
- Understand an effective performance management process
- Have an awareness of current key educational issues

The time spent with positive, like-minded individuals has been fantastic and gives you a professional lift. The training days make you really think and reflect within a supportive environment and analyse what you're doing within your own school, as well as preparing you for the role of SIP. I can honestly say, it is possibly some of the best training I have received as a Headteacher over the last 16 years. I always look forward to the next training day and we have formed a group that will keep in touch after the 'training' has finished.
